NEW YORK. Oct. 31.—The relaxed tone of the money market in New York last week cleared the speculative atmosphere to some extent and the stock market emerged through a period of uncertainty and frequiarity, into substantial recovery. The determination of the directors of the Imperial Bank of Germany to leave the minimum discount rate unchanged at a per cent was the initial factor in imparting renewed confidence are the international money market.

A statement by the bank of France was a petent influence in the same direction and only in its association of the willingness of that institution to loan gold to the Bank of England on the same (come and in 190), in case of necessity, but in its expressed colinion that the situation called for no such incasure.

The Bank of England, under these circumstances, contented fixely with a lesser discount rate than that of the week before and reliation from further advanting in Parks of large blocks of New York money market in New York was consibly relaxed.

Certainly, Mr. Schuch's cure for con-samption is even "more better" than for cancer, inasmich as you not only get the cheese, but also you get a glass of beer. The limit of one glass is, how-ever, a scandalous restriction. It is more iniquitous even then the Word of Wisdom. Think of a consamptive be-ing tessed with a single glass of beer— one only—for a whole day. Mr. Schuch manifestly is a disciple of the homeo-nathic school when it comes to prescrib-ing doses. Think of a man, tuberculin or otherwise, being satisfied with one glass of beer a day! If he were equipped with a neck as long as a giraffe's with glass of beer a day! If he were equipped with a neck as long as a graffe's with sponges arranged at intervals, it might be some little help to him, but under ardinary conditions the system would scarcely work out. If Mr. Schueh would but repeal his statute of limitation on the beer question, tuberculosis would be stripped of half its tyrrors.

TIME IS RIPE FOR AN AMERICAN PARTY IN CHURCH-RIDDEN IDAHO

BY C. E. ARNEY.

BY C. E. ARNEY.

ROISE, Ida., Get. M.—The Salt Lake election is widely discussed in Idaho. For a month past the result has been a leading topic of conversation by men here who take even a passing interest in public questions.

The chief reason why the Salt Lake election of Tuesday next is interesting to Idaho men of public inclinations is that there is a direct issue in Salt Lake over Mormon domination.

That issue interests the Idahoan. He knows that he has a part to play some time in the same issue, for there is Mormon domination here in Idaho. But at present the issue is hypotized. It was fulled to repose just a year ago, the last calt rites being presided over by the supreme court of Idaho. It said that a party was not a party, and from that decision there was no appeal.

Causes Deep Shame.

Causes Deep Shame.

Causes Deep Shame.

This ended the fight for the time being in Idaho, but the fact that it ended as it idd cast a shame-faced expression on all who were parties to the ending of the struggle against this dominant power.

Every Mormon in Idaho today would vote against Bransford for mayor or Salt Lake, if he could vote, and for no reason save his stand for Americanism as against Mormonism.

Nearly every Gentile in Idaho would, because of this solid Mormon attitude, vote for Bransford, if he had the chance.

The sentiment for the American party in Salt Lake is remarkably solidified among the non-Mormons of Idaho.

A travelling man from Salt Lake said today: "Don't you wish you were me, so you could go to Salt Lake next Tuesday and vote that American party ticket as straight as I am going to vote it?"

Mormons Antagonize Patriotism.

Another traveling man from Salt Lake marked that he had been traveling arough the Mormon-Infested sections of itrough the Mormon-infested sections of these mountain states for many years, and each year strengthened his conviction that the Mormons were firm in their antagonism to American patriotism. He believes the younger people in the church are taught early lessons of estrangement from those outside the Mormon fold.

A man in Twin Palls county said the other day: "Thank God, we can look to I tak's capital and see a genoine struggle going on there, as it was going on in Idaho three and four years ago, for the upilift of the American standard, and against the power of polygamist regime, which would rule with an iron hand if it had the power."

This sentiment prevails in Idaho today more generally than during the days when the Democracy was a pure American party.
